

ANNOUNCEMENT AND INVITATION TO ATTEND AN INCEPTION WORKSHOP FOR CCIAM PROGRAMME

The Programme Coordination is pleased to announce and invite interested parties to attend an inception workshop for the programme at a venue and for a purpose detailed below:

Date: 19th February 2010

Venue: ARDHI University – IHSS Hall

Purpose: To give practical information to researchers and other stakeholders wishing to submit concept and ultimately full research proposal for grant competition under the CCIAM programme.

Background Information

Climate Change Impacts Adaptation and Mitigation (CCIAM) is a collaborative research and training programme involving Sokoine University of Agriculture (SUA), University of Dar es Salaam (UDSM), Ardhi University (ARU), Tanzania Meteorological Agency (TMA) and a various academic institutions in Norway. The main focus of the program is building capacity to facilitate implementation of Reduced Emissions from Deforestations and forest Degradation (REDD) initiatives. The CCIAM was launched on November 30, 2009.

To prepare for initiation of the Research component of the program, the CCIAM Programme Coordination wishes to announce that an inception workshop will be conducted on Friday 19th February 2010 at Ardhi University (ARU) in Dar es Salaam. The aim of the workshop is to raise awareness of the programme, inform potential researchers and other stakeholders on guidelines for preparation of concept notes and proposals for the CCIAM Programme. Researchers from collaborating institutions wishing to apply for research grants are encouraged to attend

A tentative program for the workshop is attached.
